NTHU New Student Health Examination

FAQ Guide

NotebookLM

What should I do if I cannot attend the on-campus health examination?

It is recommended to visit the cooperative hospital after November 1 of the previous year for the New Student Health Examination.

Yeezen General Hospital in Taoyuan.

The fee (810 TWD) is the same as the on-campus checkup.

Documents to submit to the Division of Health service: "Receipt from the cooperative hospital."

You do not need to submit the health report.

Note: You will receive the receipt on the day the checkup is completed.

NotebookLM

What should I do if I cannot complete the health examination on campus or at a cooperative hospital?

The health examination should be completed at a district level or above hospital after November 1 of the previous year.

Fees vary depending on the hospital.

Strict Requirements Checklist

- Documents to submit to the Division of Health service:
  One “original copy” of the health examination report from a “district level or above” dated after November 1 of the previous year.
- The report must include all items listed on the NTHU New Students Health Exam Record; any missing items must be completed.

Note: Considering the processing time for hospital reports, please ensure the examination is completed 10–14 days before the registration date.

NotebookLM

Health Examination Pathways: Summary & Comparison

On-Campus Examination

Fee: 810 TWD

Report Handling: You do not need to submit the health report.

Yeezen General Hospital

Fee: 810 TWD

Report Handling: Only submit "Receipt from the cooperative hospital" (must be after November 1 of the previous year).

District Level or Above Hospital

Fee: Fees vary depending on the hospital.

Report Handling: Must submit one "original copy" of the health examination report. (Must be dated after November 1 of the previous year, and include all NTHU record items).

NotebookLM